Before meeting with your raumplus specialist detailer to discuss concrete details we recommend that you compile a floor plan sketch (see overleaf) of the space and your desired interior system application taking into consideration the following basics:

- include all windows and doors specifying which direction they open in
- include anything which is unusual – for example projecting walls, chimneys, etc.
- where sloping ceilings are concerned give approximate measurements if possible

This check list with the planning sheet overleaf can also be downloaded at www.raumplus.com.

When visiting your raumplus specialist dealer please take the check list and planning sheet with you. This ensures that the dealer has the most important information on hand to compile a price quotation for your interior system applications.
