

RAUMPLUS SHOWCASES ITS EXPERTISE AT KBB BIRMINGHAM 2026

In spring 2026, Germany-based furniture manufacturer raumplus will once again be taking part in kbb Birmingham, the UK's leading trade fair for kitchen, bathroom and bedroom solutions. From 1 to 4 March, the company will be presenting a comprehensive cross-section of its portfolio at stand M94 at the NEC Birmingham, ranging from tried-and-tested room solutions to new products that set new standards in functionality and design.

For four decades, kbb Birmingham has been regarded as a central platform for designers, retailers and manufacturers from all over Europe. It stands for innovation, high-quality craftsmanship and professional exchange on current design and furnishing trends. Here, raumplus presents its expertise in tailor-made room solutions to an international audience of professionals.

New products: Focus on modularity and design freedom

A special highlight at the raumplus stand is the presentation of the new brand CUB+IQ by raumplus. With its modular system miio, raumplus is expanding its portfolio with a solution that combines flexibility and easy planning.

miio impresses with its wide range of design options and, thanks to its modular construction, allows wardrobe configurations to be created in a matter of minutes. Planning and ordering remain simple, and assembly is straightforward. Fixed heights and depths, variable widths, practical accessories and selected design elements enable tailor-made furnishing solutions.

The trade fair presentation will be complemented by the display of other tried-and-tested room solutions, such as the Pivot Door S1200, which won the German Design Award 2025.

New to the raumplus range are Shaker Doors, which are available as fully customised products. They are available as hinge doors, panels and side panels and are compatible with the Ecoline and Legno systems. A selection of handles and the option of designing frames and panels in the same or deliberately contrasting finishes offer plenty of design freedom.

Joint anniversary: 40 years of innovation and experience

A special setting lends additional significance to the upcoming kbb Birmingham: both the trade fair and raumplus will be celebrating their 40th anniversary in 2026. This shared milestone underscores the long-standing experience, continuity and innovative strength of both partners. While raumplus has stood for tailor-made room solutions of the highest quality for four decades, kbb Birmingham has been a driving force in the field of kitchens, bathrooms and bedrooms for just as long. For raumplus, participating in the anniversary edition of the trade fair is therefore not just an appearance at a trade fair, but also a clear commitment to partnership-based exchange and future-oriented design.
